Table notes

Although the headline ranking figures show changes in the data year to year, the pattern of clustering among the schools is equally significant. About 400 points separate the top school, Iese Business School, from the school ranked number 85. The top 12 business schools, from Iese to the National University of Singapore Business School, form the top group of custom providers. The second group is led by University of North Carolina: Kenan-Flagler and the third by Wits Business School. The top and bottom schools in the second group are separated by 170 points; in the third group there is a 145-point gap between top and bottom.*Includes revenue from food. Includes revenue from food and accommodation. Aggregate total for open and customised programmes.
