Standout	Allen & Overy and Deloitte	10	9	7	26	The two professional services firms joined forces to create a machine learning product for the process aspects of large transactions. Allen & Overy provided the legal knowledge and Deloitte the data scientists. The product will be equally owned.
Standout	D2 Legal Technology	8	10	7	25	D2LT created and facilitates the Legal Opinion Utility, a collaboration between heavily regulated financial institutions that reduces their need to instruct lawyers to discover their individual liabilities.
Highly Commended	Bond Dickinson, Kennedys and Mills & Reeve	7	9	8	24	The three rival law firms set up a helpline and insurance templates for their client AIG Europe, to help it penetrate the smaller-business market.
Highly Commended	Addleshaw Goddard and Wolseley UK	8	8	8	24	The law firm worked with Wolseley UK, the building materials group, to create an online portal to store, summarise and quantify the risk in its commercial contracts, enabling decisions to be made more quickly.
Highly Commended	Osborne Clarke and Vodafone	7	8	8	23	The two teams transformed the way Vodafone managed its litigation and property work in the UK through the joint creation of an online platform that reduces time, cost and risk.
Highly Commended	Schillings and the Children's Commissioner	6	8	8	22	By tackling opaque terms and conditions on social media apps, the lawyers helped to highlight threats to children's privacy.
Commended	Garrigues and Uría Menéndez, Clifford Chance, Deloitte and Dentons	6	7	8	21	A programme that helps immigrants prepare for the Spanish government's new citizenship test. It covers constitutional principles and the realities of life in Spain.
Commended	Matheson	7	7	7	21	To make collaboration a key strategic aim, the firm commissioned partners to come up with ideas to develop new products and business and to manage risk. Collaboration is now an indicator in performance reviews.
Commended	Uría Menéndez and La Caixa Bank	6	7	7	20	Working with a business school, other consultants and social enterprises, the firm has defined the parameters of social entrepreneurship in Spain.
