

Award	Law firm	Originality	Rationale	Impact	Total innovation score
Standout	O'Melveny & Myers	9	9	8	26	OMMLit is a just-in-time software platform that guides lawyers through every task in a litigation matter, connecting them to more than 100 underlying technology tools at the right stages. It has given junior lawyers the resources to check and develop their skills, and confidence to do more work on their own. Lawyers can add to the system as they work, ensuring it is continually updated and relevant
Highly Commended	White & Case	7	9	8	24	The firm took a collaborative and consultative approach to developing and implementing its 2020 strategy. The approach ensured that 90 per cent of the firm's diverse partnership, spread across 39 offices, actively engaged in the process.
Highly Commended	Hogan Lovells	7	8	8	23	A strategy to turn the firm's 6,000 people into clear, concise and jargon-free communicators is fundamentally changing the way the firm liaises with clients, delivers advice and presents itself to the market.
Highly Commended	Seyfarth Shaw	9	7	7	23	The Seyfarth Cup rewards partners for collaborating across practice areas. The initiative has helped create a more collaborative culture and behaviours, and translated into significant new work.
Commended	Paul Hastings	8	8	6	22	The firm has reframed how it delivers value to clients. Beyond practice area expertise, lawyers are tasked with uncovering new opportunities for clients, managing risk, improving efficiency and leveraging technology.